

LIFE ON JUPITER—The Story of Jens Nygaard, Musician

MARTIN SPINELLI

Producer and Director

Martin Spinelli has been a producer, director, and writer of documentary and communications programs since 1967. He began his career making television public affairs programs at Philadelphia's ABC-TV affiliate, where his documentaries won an Emmy, First Prize at the San Francisco Film Festival, the Ohio State Award, and several other awards. He also worked with NBC/WRC, in Washington, D.C., where he joined the Director Guild of America. His previous documentaries reflect his interest in outstanding individuals.

Spinelli's experience includes video, film, and the new multimedia presentation formats, and his work has won many corporate communications awards. He has directed two feature length documentaries, including "Sourdough." "The Young Greats," his first documentary, was recently rebroadcast on public television. His latest work, "LIFE ON JUPITER" has been broadcast on WNET Thirteen in New York and has been nominated for D.G.A.'s Outstanding Directorial Achievement Award.

LISA PALATTELLA

Editor

Lisa Palattella is a film and video editor whose exceptional artistry with long-form and music documentaries is sought by the industry's best-known producers. She is also an excellent musician; her experience in both making and cutting music proved invaluable in the creation of "Life on Jupiter." Palattella's substantial credits include "John Gardner: Pinstripe Radical," a PBS Special; "Plagues: The Invisible Fire," for National Geographic Television; A&E's "Biography of the Millennium"; "Promised Land: Jewish American Journeys" for the National Museum of American Jewish History; "The Politics of Quiet (a musical oratorio)" produced by Meredith Monk and The House Foundation; and "Hate on Trial," a Bill Moyers Special, for PBS.

Programs that Lisa Palattella has edited have won many awards including an Emmy and Peabody for "Going, Going, Almost Gone!—Animals in Danger" and the Golden Gate Award for Best Children's Program at the San Francisco International Film Festival for "Where the Toys Come From" produced for the Disney Studio.
